

ALUMINIUM PLANT LABELS WITH SPECIAL SURFACE. SIMPLY WRITE WITH PENCIL FOR A LONG LASTING LABEL

BOTH WRITING AND LABELS WILL LAST FOR DECADES : Annual labelling is the thing of the past with Alitags, leaving you time to do other gardening jobs and saving you the frustration of forgetting the names of your plants due to ineffective labelling.

SIMPLE AND EASY LABELLING : Use an Alitag pencil on any of the labels. Pencil has been reported to have lasted over 30 years on etched and anodised aluminium. An Indian rubber will remove the pencil should you wish to reuse the labels within one year.

UNIQUE FASTENING : Alitags can either be used by tying onto the plant or pushed into the ground. A4, A6 and A3 labels which offer both options can have their stems bent around the plant and pushed through the hole. P8 which also offers both options can be bent to 90° so that the labels is read level to the ground making it idea for alpine plants.

TRADITIONAL USES : The Victorian label (A7) is a traditional shape for fruit trees, roses and wall plants. A1, A2 and A5 labels are ideal for shrubs, while A5 label has holes at each end and can be hung like a sherry decanter label around the bough of a tree.

<<< AOS Stem written with pencil

ETCHED AND ANODISED ALUMINIUM : A material of traditional character, which will not compete with the plants for attention, but will last for decades. Pencil Alitags are approximately 0.5mm thick.

ALITAG PENCILS are made from solid pure graphite which is darker than ordinary HB pencil. Unlike ordinary HB pencils, our Alitag Pencil has no wood round it. The whole pencil is made of solid pure graphite measuring 7mm in diameter and 175 mm long.

Professional ALITAGS Many gardeners and plantsmen have become frustrated by plastic labels, which weather harden and become brittle, snapping easily, and indelible inks that only produce labels which fade and become illegible. My system of labelling is TRULY PERMANENT - the labels are 0.8mm thick (about the thickness of the traditional knife blade) and the lettering, effected by punching the letters of the plant name into the surface of the label, cannot wear off or fade, and are truly permanent. The lettering process uses 37 characters (alphabet, &, and numbers), which are available in 3 sizes; 6mm and 5mm for trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants; and 3mm for alpine plants. The character punches are used individually as required to produce the plant names; each letter punch is tapped into the surfaced leaving a lasting impression which providing a most professional, truly permanent, resilient, and clear label. A Jig is available to aid the positioning of the character punches. The jig, which is made of steel and brass, clamps the labels in position and the calibration ensure straight lines and even spacing of characters. Professional Alitags labels can also be written with pencil. Both writing and labels will last for decades.

Alitags are used worldwide in Botanical gardens and Research Institutions, gardens open to public including the National and Council Parks Department. The National Trusts, English Heritage as well as private gardens and estates.

ALITAGS featured in the Consumers Association Publication Gardening Which, and have also been featured on many television programs, and are regularly recommended in many newspapers and magazines.

TRADITIONAL WHITE LABELS

White wooden labels were popularly used in the kitchen gardens during the Victorian period. They are easy to mark with a good indelible pen. Repaint the labels if you make a spelling mistake or wish to reuse.

Being made from pinewood painted white with external paint, they are less permanent than metal labels but will still last for many years.

ABOVE : 15" Stem Label

Available in 2 styles - one as a stem label with a pointed end for pushing into the ground, and a rectangular label with 2 holes for hanging.

SUB TOTAL FOR WHITE LABELS £.....

Teaktags are another truly permanent system. Teak labels blend in with your plants and will weather to a silver grey colour as time passes.

Teak is a most durable wood and will last for many years.

Teaktags are easy to use. Simply write with an Alitag pencil or HB pencil on any of the labels. Both labels and writing will last for many years.

Sand paper can remove the writing should you want to reuse the labels.

Our Teaktags are hand-made. Each piece is individually cut, and is 4 - 7 mm thick. The thickness varies according to model.
